

IMMERSE IN A STREAM OF ABUNDANCE AT ION ORCHARD
THIS CHINESE NEW YEAR

Singapore, 7 January 2019 – ION Orchard ushers in Chinese New Year with a ‘Stream of Abundance’ from now to 19 February 2019. Open throughout the season, including the first and second days of the Lunar New Year (5 and 6 February 2019), the mall will be decked out in vibrant colours and patterns inspired by the Koi, a fish that represents good fortune, prosperity, longevity and success in the Chinese culture. Visitors will stroll through a festive Chinese garden on Level 3, enjoy high octane lion dance performances, marvel at the calligraphy skills of a local artist and savour an array of traditional Chinese New Year goodies. Additionally, ION+ Rewards Members and ION^{PRIVILEGE} Members can redeem exclusive sets of complimentary traditional red packets intricately designed with two Koi.

Festive Entertainment

In between shopping for the season’s latest collection, visitors can take a break and wander through a vibrant and beautifully designed Chinese Garden at ION Orchard’s Level 3 from 8 January onwards. On display is a splendid arrangement of oriental panels decorated with swimming Koi, floating lily blossoms, as well as an animated fish pond, adding to the garden’s festive allure.

Horoscope fans and interested shoppers can learn more about their Chinese Zodiac sign and predictions for the New Year at curated displays, which make a perfect opportunity to gather friends and family for that mandatory festive Instagram shot!

Adding to the festive celebrations, visitors to the mall can take home a complimentary seasonal greeting penned by renowned Chinese calligraphy artist, Shen Guang Han, on selected dates during Chinese New Year at ION Orchard. These scrolls will feature delicate hand letterings of auspicious and meaningful words. A living icon in the local art industry, Shen is well versed in Chinese palaeography and has years of experience writing, teaching and demonstrating various Chinese scripts. He has not only held a solo calligraphy exhibition at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce with former Member of Parliament, Dr Ho Kah Leong, as his guest of honour, but also published a book titled 'The Evolution of Chinese Cursive Writing', where he shares his views of cursive writing and explains its historic origins.

No Chinese New Year celebrations will be complete without lion dance performances and scrumptious treats and you can find both and more at ION Orchard. Visitors and shoppers can catch energetic lion dance performances at the Level 1 Atrium. Look out for the God of Fortune too, as he will be roving around the mall and handing out delicious sweets and festive treats.

Shoppers can also catch a special Chinese New Year multimedia projection show at ION Sky from 21 January to 19 February. In line with the festive theme of Koi, visitors will see digital versions of Koi swim with grace through a stream of abundance amid a cherry blossom forest.

Festive Happenings

Beyond the traditional Chinese New Year celebrations, ION Orchard will be hosting an exciting line-up of exhibitions. These include the Richard Orlinski Exhibition by Galeries Bartoux featuring contemporary sculptures from now to 3 February, Michael Khoo's Solo Exhibition titled '80 Years Dance with the Art' from 15 to 19 February. In addition, a special showcase, REUNITE 2019, will take visitors on a walk down memory lane, highlighting the works of past years' winners of the Young Talent Programme (YTP), in collaboration with ION Art and the Affordable Art Fair. Happening from 18 to 27 January, REUNITE 2019 is part of Singapore Art Week 2019.
